I do not want cell phones operated on airplanes,there is enough stress flying, without having someone next to you talking on the phone and multiplied by even half the passengers on a flight, it would be chaotic. Also the risk of not hearing messages from the pilot/attendant would be a safety issue as well. I feel the opportunity for usage before takeoff and after landing is sufficient.